

An abstract graphic design featuring a light grey background. On the left side, there are several parallel lines that create a sense of depth and perspective. These lines are primarily orange and grey, with some lines being slightly offset from each other, giving the impression of a corner or a path receding into the distance. The lines are oriented diagonally, starting from the top left and extending towards the bottom right.

Abolitionist Gallery Walk

Guiding Questions William Lloyd Garrison

- Why was Garrison's time in Baltimore so important to his evolving views on slavery?
- What strategy did Garrison use to confront slavery?
- Why did Garrison and Arthur Tappan choose to mail so many and so many different kinds of antislavery material to the South?
- How did the South react to Garrison's efforts?

https://ny.pbslearningmedia.org/resource/amex25_socst.ush.garrison/abolitionist-leader-william-lloyd-garrison/

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/abolitionists-garrison-gets-attacked/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/abolitionists-powerful-partnership/>

Guiding Questions

Harriet Beecher Stowe

- What ethical dilemma did Harriet Beecher Stowe face when she first witnessed slavery in Kentucky in 1833?
- How, if at all, did the ethical dilemma differ when a fugitive slave sought her help in Maine in 1851?
- What audience did Uncle Tom's Cabin seek to reach, and what accounts for its impact upon that audience?

<https://ny.pbslearningmedia.org/resource/mex25.socst.ush.hbstowe/harriet-beecher-stowe-uncle-toms-cabin/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/abolitionists-harriet-beecher-stowe-visits-slave-state/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/uncle-toms-cabin/>

Guiding Questions

Frederick Douglas

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/abolitionists-frederick-douglass-published-north-star/>

- Why was Frederick Douglass such an effective leader of the abolitionist movement?
- Why was George Latimer's capture in Boston so important to the abolitionist cause?
- Southerners claimed that abolitionist victories were creating a "wedge" in the Union. What did that mean, and were they correct?

In Rochester, New York, the last stop on the Underground Railroad, Frederick Douglass published the abolitionist newspaper The North Star, naming it after the icon followed by so many escaped slaves on their journeys to freedom.

<https://ny.pbslearningmedia.org/resource/amex25.socst.ush.douglass/ex-slave-frederick-douglass-joins-the-abolitionists/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/abolitionists-frederick-douglass-reacts/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americanexperience/features/abolitionists-frederick-douglass-begins-understand-slavery/>

Guiding Questions

Angelina Grimké

- Why did Angelina Grimké feel it was her “duty” to oppose slavery?
- What was the connection that Angelina Grimké saw between society’s treatment of slaves and of women?
- What did Angelina Grimké see as the role of the church in the debate over slavery?

<https://ny.pbslearningmedia.org/resource/amex25.socst.ush.grimke/southern-abolitionist-angelina-grimke/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americalexperience/features/abolitionists-angelina-leaves-home/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americalexperience/features/abolitionists-angelina-grimke-goes-public/>

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/americalexperience/features/abolitionists-angelina-grimke-rebels/>